Editorial

This is the last volume produced by Issues in Applied Linguistics at the University of California at Los Angeles. We would like to thank the people and programs that made the creation and maintenance of this graduate student-run journal possible for the past 27 years: first and foremost our faculty sponsor, professor emeritus John Schumann, and our home department of Applied Linguistics; we must also thank the UCLA Graduate Students Association for continuing funding throughout the entire duration of ial's operations, and the UCLA Director of Publications Stacey Meeker, who was always incredibly supportive and a most invaluable behind-the-scene editor.
