Life in Place

Photographs by Cervin Robinson

Take photographs of some buildings in one community and you've made a start at cataloging them. Take photographs of some of the people who live or work in those buildings and you've begun a directory. Juxtapose the two, the pictures of buildings and pictures of the people who live or work in them, what you'll achieve is a sense of place.

The six buildings in these photographs are three private houses, a bicycle shop, an automobile repair garage, and an antiques and upholstery shop. The place the juxtapositions describe is in New England.
